Ashley Edwards stated that the inclusion of a skate park would be of great benefit to the whole Parks and Recreation department; who experienced problems with kids on skateboards at many parks. There was a reduction in problems when the west side skate park was constructed. Frankly though, she stated, that there was a ‘been there done that’ attitude amongst the users and were venturing out into other park areas. One additional suggestion Ms. Edwards offered was on the types of plant material that might be included. Blossoms, sap, and some leaves caused problems with the wheels of the skateboards. Overall, she felt it would be a neat feature and tremendous asset.
